

Podcast Interview - Director of ICIS UK

Contributed by davID
Friday, 08 August 2008
Last Updated Tuesday, 31 March 2009

Exopolitics UK Talk to the Director of ICIS UK - Eliahi Priest

The Institute for Co-operation in Space is primarily run from Canada and Ecuador but recently the UK gained it's own ICIS representative.

Eliahi is a native Australian, now living in Scotland and is doing great things as part of the wider exopolitical issues of which ICIS ethos is a part.

Topics: What is new energy, collective consciousness shifts, water-powered cars, UK role in new energy systems, infiltrating British politics, male dominator culture, definitions of anarchy, nihilism, exopolitical paradigm shifts, black-projects, leaving the gravity well of earth.

Note: We're now back broadcasting on low-power FM across the UK Midlands - Check us each Sunday.

Eliahi Priest, director of the Institute for Cooperation in Space (ICIS) UK, International Director for Malcolm and Priest Technologies and Executive Producer/Director of Event Zero. Malcolm and Priest Technologies have accumulated a network of physicists, scientists and inventors that are at the forefront of making alternative energy technologies a reality for the near future. The most exciting of these technologies is the Zero-Point energy phenomenon.

Join the Space Co-Op - Eliahi Priest

{mp3remote}<http://exopoliticsunitedkingdom.org/audio/ICISuk/eliahi-ICIS-ExopoliticsUK.mp3>{/mp3remote}

Interview - 1hr 10mins - Click Play to Stream

Or download a copy - here - [50mb]

- The article mentioned during this interview on partnership societies is found here

- Check out the story of the UKs foremost free energy and saucer guru here

- Update: Eliahi is speaking at this World Peace Event

Eliahi can be contacted: eliahi@exopoliticsunitedkingdom.org

The Philosophers Stone is called the most ancient, secret or unknown, natural, incomprehensible, heavenly, blessed sacred stone of the Sages. It is described as being true, more certain than certainty itself, the arcanum of all arcana - the divine virtue and efficiency, which is hidden from the foolish, the aim and end of all things under heaven, the wonderful epilogue and conclusion of all the Labours of the Sages- the perfect essence of all the elements, the indestructible body which no element can injure, the quintessence; the double and living mercury which has in itself the heavenly spirit - the cure of all the unsound and imperfect metals - the everlasting light - the panacea for all diseases - the Glorious Phoenix - the most precious of all treasures - the Chief Good of Nature.

Anon.. The Sophic Hydrolyth (1678)